DESCRIBE What YOU HAVE EATEN TODAY

It's Halloween!!! As soon as I wake up I eat my pumpkin ^{eggs} then hit the candy store and feel no guilt. Technically it's my baby sisters... but I always steal her candy. However today I can't get yelled at over it. The first candy I picked is "NERDS" gotta have grape flavor and I run to the train station heading to City College. Once I open this little cute rectangular packet I pop them into my mouth. It looks like small pebbles with a vibrant color of purple. I rub them with tongue upwards to the roof of my mouth to taste it sour then sweet crunchy taste. After a while the solid turns into this crunchy sweet thing and you just want more and more of these powerful purple little dinosaur pebbles. Who would die though what's inside of a small packet is so addictive and tastes like rainbows. If you haven't tried them well, you have for are you crazy! Highly recommend 10/10 ;)
